Dear Leon:

Transmitted herewith is the report on the charity racing days distributing agents (charitable foundations).

In both 1971 and 1972, over $1.5 million was realized from charity days racing, compared to less than $1 million provided in 1970. The primary cause of this increase was 1970 legislation which changed the allocations made from parimutuel wagering pools.

Control over these funds is provided by separate accounting for charity day operations, the Horse Racing Board's approval of charity beneficiaries, and independent audits of the charitable foundations.

Most, but not all, of the foundations incur some operating costs which reduces the amount of funds available for charity. There are several other variations in operations among the foundations; however, appropriate financial reporting is not impeded.

Assemblyman Leon Ralph
October 24, 1973
Page 2

The net proceeds from one charity day during each annual thoroughbred meeting would be diverted under SB 729 from allocation by the foundations to providing welfare benefits to persons who are or have been engaged in the care, training, or running of thoroughbred racehorses. The method of designating the amount of funds appropriated to provide benefits to this special group involves some problems which could be avoided by alternatives.

Detail listings of the distributions of the foundations to charities are included.

With my warm best wishes,

Sincerely,

VINCENT THOMAS, Chairman
Joint Legislative Audit Committee

INTRODUCTION

Approximately $1.5 million annual proceeds from charity racing days are allocated by distributing agents (charitable foundations) to the various charities of their choice. SB 729 proposes to divert the proceeds from one charity day of each annual thoroughbred race meeting from allocation by the foundations to providing welfare benefits to persons who have been engaged in the care, training or running of thoroughbred racehorses.

The Assembly Committee on Government Organization has requested an audit of the charitable foundations and comments regarding the use of charity day proceeds. We have relied upon the annual audits of the foundations made by independent certified public accountants, and accordingly have limited our review to analysis of reported operations.

REPORT SUMMARY

The amount of net proceeds provided to charities is primarily regulated by two factors: the selection of the specific dates which are designated as charity days and the distributions made from parimutuel wagering pools.

The amounts of gross receipts varies substantially from day to day, while the amounts of daily direct expenses, which are deducted from gross receipts to establish the amount of net proceeds, do not vary materially. Therefore, the selection of the charity days materially affects the amounts available for distribution to charities.

In 1970 the net charity proceeds was less than $1 million, while in both 1971 and 1972 over $1.5 million was provided. This increase was primarily the result of 1970 legislation which changed the allocations of parimutuel wagering pools.

Appropriate controls over these funds are provided by the requirements of the Horse Racing Board that separate accounting be made for charity days' operations and independent audits of the charitable foundations be performed. The audits include verification of the tax-exempt status of beneficiaries.

All services provided to two of the charitable foundations are without costs and therefore all proceeds are available for distribution to charities. Varying amounts of operating costs are incurred by the other foundations.

There are a number of differences in operations among the foundations; however, these differences do not impede appropriate financial reporting.

In lieu of allocating one charity day's proceeds to the special group of beneficiaries proposed by SB 729, the following alternatives which would have fewer adverse effects are available:

- Establish base amounts which would continue to be available for allocation by the foundations, with all or a portion of the excess allocated to the designated beneficiaries.
- Create a statewide foundation to receive a portion of the charity funds that could be allocated both to the special group of beneficiaries and other beneficiaries.

REGULATIONS

Charity racing days are regulated by the following sections of the Business and Professions Code:

- Section 19550 requires the designation of at least five racing days as charity days by racing associations which conduct more than eleven weeks of racing during any one meeting. Other associations are required to designate at least three charity days. Racing meetings which are sponsored by governmental agencies are not required to include charity days.
- Section 19551 makes the issuance of the license conditional upon the furnishing of personnel and facility to conduct the charity racing days.
- Section 19552 specifies that the same racing officials required to serve at the meeting shall serve in the same capacities in connection with charity day racing.
- Section 19553 requires the inclusion of all income and limits the expenses to be deducted therefrom to those incurred because of the conduct of racing on the charity days. No profit can be made, either directly or indirectly, and the balance of gross income after deducting expenses is to be paid to a qualified distributing agent.

- Section 19554 requires that distributing agents be nonprofit organizations exempt from the payment of any tax measured by income. The five trustees or directors are precluded from being connected with or having any interest in the racing association. They are required to be residents of the state and associated with an organization engaged in civic, religious, charitable, educational or veterans' activities.
- Section 19555 requires that (1) the charity days' net proceeds be paid to the distributing agent as soon as practicable, and (2) at least 90 percent be paid by the distributing agent within one year after the last day of the meeting, with any balance remaining distributed as soon thereafter as is practicable.
- Section 19556 limits payments by the distributing agents to nonprofit corporations or organizations (1) exempt from taxes measured by income, (2) engaged in charitable, benevolent, civic, religious or veterans' work, and (3) approved by the Horse Racing Board. Chapter 1529, Statutes of 1967, added the provision that organizations which provide charitable benefits to persons connected with the care, training and running of racehorses shall not be excluded.
- Section 19557 specifies that if the name of a designated beneficiary has not been disapproved within 60 days after submission by the distributing agent to the Horse Racing Board, its approval shall be deemed to have been given.

OPERATIONS

Charities derive benefit from the days designated annually by each racing association only if the gross receipts of these days exceed the related direct costs. Thus, during 1971 and 1972, the first two years of operations at Cal-Expo, Capitol Trotting Association experienced operating losses as was anticipated by the owners. No funds were provided for charity. At the conclusion of this year's meeting, the distributing agent, Sacramento Harness Racing Charity Days Foundation, advertised locally that it would receive requests from charities for funds. It does not necessarily follow that the Sacramento harness meeting is profitable because the inclusion of indirect costs which are not deductible in determining charity day proceeds could result in loss operations. However, as Table 1 indicates, most of the funds provided to charity are derived from the large, successful, long-established meetings.

Finding

FOR THE MAJOR TRACKS, THE DATES WHICH ARE DESIGNATED BY THE RACING ASSOCIATION AS CHARITY DAYS HAS A MAJOR IMPACT ON THE AMOUNT OF CHARITY FUNDS PROVIDED.

As indicated in Table 1 above, two distributing agents, Santa Anita Foundation and Hollywood Turf Club Associated Charities, Inc., account for approximately two-thirds of the total transactions of all the charity foundations. Table 2 relates the gross income from racing operations for the most recent fiscal years of the two racing associations from which these two foundations derive their income.

Table 2

Racing Associations Gross Income

	Hollywood Turf Club (Year End March 31, 1973)	Los Angeles Turf Club (Year End October 31, 1972)
Gross Handle	$213,493,840	$208,280,760
Track Income:
Commission including breakage	9,963,217	9,690,526
Admission	4,398,391	4,655,530
Concession, parking, programs and other race meet income	2,582,664	2,416,574
Total	$ 16,944,272	$ 16,762,630

The expenses allocated to charity days by these two tracks for the most recent fiscal years are, like the gross income, not significantly different: $491,900 by Hollywood Turf Club and $445,760 by Los Angeles Turf Club. The single factor which caused the Hollywood Turf Club Associated Charities, Inc. income to be almost 50 percent greater than the Santa Anita Foundation income was the differences in the gross revenue realized on charity days. Table 3 summarizes the gross income from charity days operations for these two associations.

Charity Days Gross Income

	Hollywood Turf Club (Year End March 31, 1973)	Los Angeles Turf Club (Year End October 31, 1972)
Gross Handle	$14,489,196	$11,543,670
Track Income:

Admission	290,934	232,633
Concession, parking, programs and other race meet income	162,199	113,956
Total	$ 1,105,444	$ 857,159

The total charity days income for Hollywood Turf Club is 6.5 percent of the total income (Table 2), while for Los Angeles Turf Club, charity days income is 5.1 percent of total income. If these two percentages were the same, there would be little difference in the amounts provided to charity.

Finding

THE PRIMARY CAUSE OF THE SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE IN CHARITY FUNDS IS 1970 LEGISLATION WHICH CHANGED THE ALLOCATIONS OF PARIMUTUEL WAGERING POOLS.

In 1970, less than $1 million was realized from charity day racing operations, while in both 1971 and 1972 over $1.5 million was provided to the charity foundations. Chapter 1609, Statutes of 1970, changed the operations of parimutuel wagering pools in the following regard:

- The amount returned to wagers was reduced from 86 percent to 84.45 percent for thoroughbred races and to 84.25 percent for other races.
- The method of computing the state license fee was changed with a lower amount being paid in most, but not all, instances.
- The amount to be paid in purses is designated for most operations separate from the track commission.

The effect of these changes is summarized in Table 4 which compares the amount of track commission and purses prior and subsequent to the 1970 change at various amounts of total wagers:

180,000,001	12,100,000	14,850,000	2,750,000

Finding

APPROPRIATE CONTROLS ARE PROVIDED BY THE HORSE RACING BOARD'S REQUIREMENT OF SEPARATE ACCOUNTING FOR CHARITY DAYS OPERATIONS AND INDEPENDENT AUDITS OF DISTRIBUTING AGENTS, WHICH INCLUDE VERIFICATION OF THE TAX-EXAMPT STATUS OF BENEFICIARY ORGANIZATIONS.

The financial information summarized in Table 1 and shown in detail in the appendix is from the most current independent audit reports of the distributing agents. Each racing association is required to maintain its accounting records so that operations on charity days are separate from other days. Financial reports identify the basis by which costs are allocated between charity days and other days. Unique situations (e.g., racing operations conducted by subsidiaries with part of profits transferred to the parent company by rent charges) do not affect the charity days operations.

Unqualified opinions are provided in each of the certified public accountants reports on the distributing agents. The board approves the proposed disbursements of distributing agents prior to payment, and the auditors verify the eligibility of charity beneficiaries to receive funds.

Findings

- ALL BUT TWO OF THE DISTRIBUTING AGENTS INCUR SOME COSTS WHICH REDUCES THE AMOUNT OF FUNDS FOR CHARITY.
- THE DIFFERENCES IN OPERATIONS AMONG THE DISTRIBUTING AGENTS DO NOT IMPEDE APPROPRIATE FINANCIAL REPORTING.

One agent, Southern California Racing Association Charitable Foundation, incurs no costs and distributes all receipts to charity within the same fiscal year of receipt. Only one other agent, Santa Anita Foundation, incurs no operating expenses and is therefore able to distribute all funds to charities. Among the other agents, operating costs range from $5 to over $15,000 per year.

Table 5 summarizes the cash receipts and disbursements and fund balances of the distributing agents for the most recent fiscal years for which audits have been completed. The following operating differences are indicated:

- Two agents, Santa Anita Foundation and Hollywood Turf Club Associated Charities, have substantial amounts of other funds in addition to charity day funds. Separate accounting is provided.
- Operating expenses are paid from the same fund as distributions to charities, except the Hollywood Turf Club agent maintains a separate fund from which expenses are paid. Transfers of both charity day funds and other funds are made to the expense fund.
- Various fiscal years have been adopted by the agents.
- Some agents distribute funds soon after receipt, while others delay distributions to near the statutory limit and realize interest income which increases the amount ultimately distributed to charities. A portion of the invested fund balance of Western Harness Charity Foundation is a $4,012 advance from the racing association.
- Both the cash and accrual basis of accounting are used. We have made adjustments so that all amounts reflected in Table 5 are on the cash basis.

CHANGE IN OPERATIONS

A reduction in the funds available for allocation by the foundations would result from the dedication of one day's proceeds to provide welfare benefits to persons who are or have been engaged in the care, training or running of thoroughbred racehorses. However, neither can the reduction in amounts be accurately estimated, nor can the long-term impact of this change be evaluated. The following problems may be eliminated by alternative solutions: (1) beneficiary influence over the amounts to be provided, (2) elimination of benefit consideration, and (3) allocation and control of operating costs.

- Beneficiary Influence Over Amounts Provided - The charities which receive funds exercise no control over the selection of the dates designated as charity days, although this selection has a major impact on the total amount of funds provided. In addition, no particular charity benefits disproportionately from the date selection. However, under SB 729, the horsemen's organization which contracts with the racing association would receive the funds to provide the welfare benefits to the persons associated with the industry. The days' selection could be a continuing concern because the horseman's organization would be the only beneficiary which both (1) contracts with the racing association and thereby influences the days' selection, and (2) has its beneficiary status fixed by statute.

- Elimination of Benefit Consideration - The statutory requirement that the foundations' directors all be associated with organizations engaged in civic, religious, charitable, educational or veterans activities provides the foundations with experience in charity operations. The complimentary provision of designating only general statutory requirements of eligible beneficiaries confers the foundations' (1) authority to judge performance, and (2) responsibility to act thereon in allocating funds. A 1967 code amendment added the provision that a beneficiary, otherwise qualified, could not be excluded because benefits were provided to members of the industry. Accordingly, payments have been made to both the California Thoroughbred Breeders Foundation and the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association. The statutory designation that one group of beneficiaries should have special treatment would merely reflect a different set of priorities than that of all the foundations collectively. However, the statutory dedication of specific funds, such as a day's net proceeds, (1) would denote that future benefits can be ascertained and summarily disposed of years before the facts, and (2) could establish a precedent for others to seek permanent assurance regarding their future funding.

- Allocation and Control of Operating Costs - The total operating expenses of all the foundations is not material in relation to total charity distributions. However, Table 6 evidences significant variations among the foundations.

Charity Distributions and Operating Expenses

Distributing Agent	Total Charity Distributions	Operating Expenses

California Jockey Club Foundation	66,000	3,953
Total	$1,474,237	$23,483

No provision is made regarding how much, if any, of the operating costs would be deducted from the net proceeds that would be transmitted to the horsemen's organization under the proposed legislation.

Finding

PROVISION CAN BE MADE FOR A SPECIAL GROUP OF BENEFICIARIES
WITHOUT SIGNIFICANT CHANGE IN OPERATIONS.

Both of the following alternatives would mandate special benefits but would prevent beneficiaries who do not contract with the racing association from being adversely affected by that absence.

- The designation of a percentage of all charity funds for allocation to the horsemen's association would result in all beneficiaries being affected proportionally by changes in net proceeds.

- The designation of the excess of a base amount for allocation to the horsemen's association would assure that other beneficiaries are not adversely affected by the influence over the designation of dates.

However, both of these alternatives would provide a relatively fixed dedication to one group of beneficiaries and thereby would reduce the flexibility to respond to future changing needs. Also, neither provide any additional incentive to control costs.

The substantial variations among the foundation in the relation between charity distributions and operating costs shown in Table 6 evidences a lack of uniformity of operations. The control of operating costs could be one of the functions of a new statewide foundation which would receive a portion (e.g., either a percentage or the excess above a base amount) of the charity funds for allocation to the horsemen's organizations for welfare benefits within the industry and to other beneficiaries, either by return to the local foundations or by direct allocation. This would preserve flexibility, avoid disruption of existing foundations' operations and could unify operations regarding costs.
